Celebrating a Life

Agnes Marie McLean

Grand Agnes

Grand Agnes was her favorite name if you were to ask me, she was called that by many not just two or three. She could sew up any thing from quilts to little tears, she even once decided to make me a baby bear. She loved to watch her Braves play and also loved to dance. She would have the family over at any time, if she was given the slightest chance. She had a heart of gold which was hard to find these days, She was also kinda stubborn and very much stuck in her ways. Like not eating liver and onions because it would bring you to an end Or even eating turnips because she had to many back when. She lived a long and joyful life and never missed a laugh, And right now she would want us to smile instead of cry on her behalf. Grand Agnes would be the first to grab the phone to give you a ring, but now it's time for us to celebrate the gaining of her wings. Grand Agnes watch over us now as we try to go on with the everyday, We know you will be looking down to guide us each step of the way!
